Dear guest

We are replacing the traditional shark fin soup in a Chinese banquet with a lobster bisque. We are boycotting shark fin soup because sharkfinning is a cruel practice and its effects are destroying the environment.

Sharkfinning involves the removal and retention of shark fins. Since only the fins are considered valuable, the rest of the shark is tossed back into the ocean. The shark is still alive and, unable to swim, it sinks to the bottom where it is eaten alive by other fish.

Sharkfinning is not only cruel, but it is also unsustainable and pushing sharks to the brink of extinction. The loss and devastation of shark populations threaten the stability of marine ecosystems and fisheries around the world.

On your behalf, we are donating to WildAid to join the fight against sharkfinning. Please help us and say no to shark fin soup. For more information, go to www.sharkwastor.com
